University of Oregon

A unique ecosystem, the College of Design comprises not only creative practitioners—artists, architects, and designers—but also social scientists, humanities scholars, engineers, economists, biologists, planners, and policymakers. Using diverse methods, we are engaging critical questions and tackling complex problems.

Through the School of Planning, Public Policy and Management, the School of Art + Design and the School of Architecture & Environment and the Department of the History of Art and Architecture, we offer 10 undergraduate degrees and 19 graduate programs in both Eugene and at the University of Oregon Portland.

Degree Candidates

The students whose names are listed here are considered eligible to participate in the commencement ceremony at the time this program was created. This is not an official degree list. Degrees and diplomas are awarded to those candidates who have successfully completed all departmental and University of Oregon degree requirements.

Commencement Ceremony

SATURDAY, JUNE 20, 2020

Welcome

Congratulations, Class of 2020 graduates and families!

Like so many unprecedented things this spring, this is the first-ever virtual commencement in our 106-year history. While we miss the music, the procession, the hugs, and cheers as each of you crosses the stage, this is nevertheless a pivotal moment. It is both a marker of all that you have accomplished and experienced and the start of the exciting next chapter.

Always there is uncertainty in this transition, not knowing quite what is ahead. For the Class of 2020, the unknowns are certainly magnified. But what I do know is that nothing prepares you better to adapt, innovate, and create your own future than a great education.

The College of Design is an incredibly diverse network of programs—intellectually and professionally we span a broad range. We are truly a diversified ecosystem with lots of rhizomes.

What makes me most proud to be a part of the College of Design is the integration of thinking and action that I see across the disciplines in our college. That combination is powerful.

Knowledge and critical thinking are manifest in the work we do. Ideas lead to action and actions, in turn, spark new ideas. This is what makes me optimistic for all of your futures and the contributions you can make. You are equipped to be engaged citizens, to both imagine and create a better, more just world.

The world needs your fresh insights, your energy, your commitment now more than ever.

As you leave the university, our greatest hope is that you not simply echo what you have learned, but rather that you are prepared to think independently, to act with conviction, to be creative and critical and compassionate as you engage that future.

Moments of profound change like those we've seen in 2020 are also tremendous opportunities for transformation and invention. You all are ready to rise to that opportunity, to meet this moment.

We are proud of you. We believe in you. And we are counting on you.
